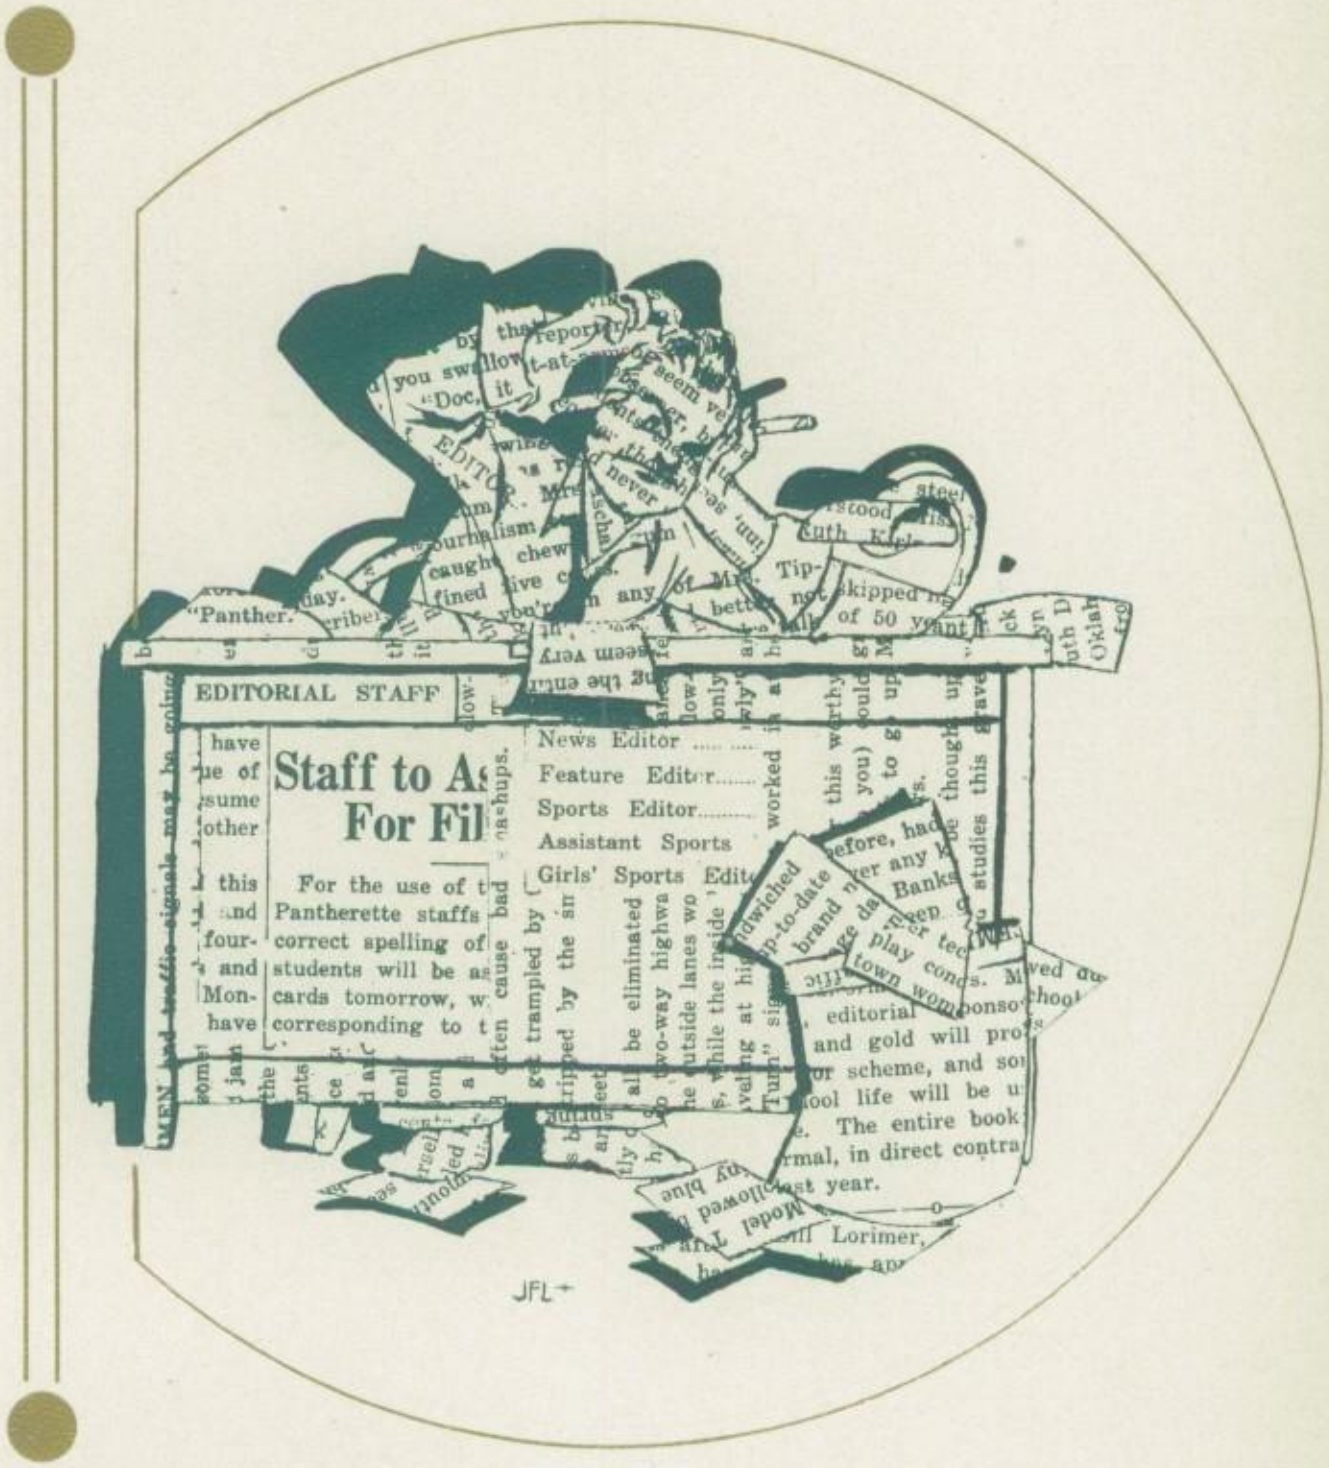
EDITOR'S NOTE



We have not chosen a definite, formal theme for this twenty-seventh Panther. It is our belief that too much endeavor blankets the spontaneity which is the essence of school life. Informality, therefore, is the keynote of this yearbook.

When two old men get together their yarns are always about the laughable things. When a man bites a dog it's news because it's funny. So let it be with the annual, if we may paraphrase the Bard. So with these two ideas in mind—informality and humor—we have built the 1937 Panther, which we now present to the student body.

THE PANTHER STAFF

Minnie E. Tipton

DEDICATION

To an unassuming, understanding teacher, to one who is friend as well as counsellor to her students, we, the Senior Class, respectfully and gratefully dedicate this issue of the Panther to Mrs. Minnie E. Tipton.

The Bosses

J. F. BATEMAN, Principal

This is the Big Boss, the man in control of everything. He merely has charge of teachers, pupils, curricula, janitors, books, office, registration, and programmes. Outside of that he has nothing to do. That only gives you an idea of what his job is like. He is official greeter and leave-taker. In other words, he is the principal.

J. F. Bateman

ELDEN B. BUSBY, Assistant Principal

May we introduce the assistant principal, in charge of boys? His job is a cross between that of a father confessor and a detective. Every hour of the school day his office is overflowing with masculine counsel seekers. His is the iron hand in the velvet glove, whose authority is not disputed. Like a judge he passes sentence in which "the quality of mercy is not strained."

Elden B. Busby

MISS GRACE BURKETT, Dean of Girls

A petite woman, yet her word is law to the feminine side of Paschal. Through her office pass the weaker sex in their stronger moments. Her glove is, of necessity, even softer velvet than that of the dean of boys. She also is known as the official brightener-upper of the school, accomplishing this chore with her sparkling smile and radiant personality.

Grace D. Burkett

W. A. MEACHAM

In the Army Now!

First Row: Lilly, Hunnicutt, Stitt, Davies, Howard.
Second Row: Yankee, Lackland, Cohen, Fox, Wilson.

STAFF

Quality and quantity have characterized the activities of the R. O. T. C. for the past year. Starting with enrollment for summer camp in 1936 and ending with Federal Inspection, everything this year has been bigger and better than ever before. The enrollment for Camp Dallas was so large that, for the first time, Company H was made up entirely of Paschal cadets. The quality part of the summer camp was reached when Company H excelled other companies in drill and inspection, and when F. S. Ratcliff was high point man in the regular track meet.

First Row: Chizum, Barbour.

SPONSORS

The fall term started with issuance of uniform (part of which were new) and election of sponsors. Under the direction of these sponsors and Captain James L. Stitt, commandant, the cadets enjoyed entertainments in the form of dances and horse-back rides. The rifle matches were fired in March with William B. Lewis firing high point man in the city, in the Hearst match. As he had won a medal for high man in the corps match, Gordon McCutchan was awarded a medal for the Hearst match. The team did not win the city matches but fired a higher score than the winner did last year.

Pettiet, Band; McDonald, Company A; Stroud, Company B; Thompson, Company C; Nichols, Company D.

COMPANY COMMANDERS

At the start of the spring term a fruitful membership drive was started. This drive brought special privileges to those who were most successful in the drive, and the number in the corps increased to nearly 350. Work of cadet ushers at the Rodeo brought special comment from both Colonel Boyd, P. M. S. & T., and Mr. Davis, manager of the Rodeo. On nearly every hand, on the midway and in the exhibits, were groups of boys in uniform. Although at this time no official report has been received, it is generally conceded that Paschal again won an honor rating at Federal Inspection.

First Row: Fender, Chizum, McDonald, Gillis.

Second Row: King, Boone, Kaufman, Zimmerman, Petta, Dugger, Watson, Bevan.

WILSON GROSECLOSE W. A. MEYERS

THE COACHES

The Paschal football team started the 1936 season with a new coaching staff. W. A. Meyers, who for nine years had been assistant coach of the Purple elevens, was given the position of coach of the Panther team in the spring of 1936. This was a very pleasing move to all the members of the football squad, as Mr. Meyers has always been a favorite with the boys.

Wilson Groseclose, star Texas Christian University lineman for three years and 1936 graduate, had a first-class position waiting for him at graduation. Mr. Groseclose proved to be as excellent a coach as he had been a pupil. He became a good friend of all the boys and was affectionately called "Pop" by the entire football team.

These two men, starting with a young, inexperienced team with only four lettermen from the 1935 squad, shaped a fine, fast group of boys that finished the season with a very impressive record.

First Row: Moore, Thompson, Kring, Chiacos, Alexander, Howard, Hoffman, Haynes, Brantley, Leudtke, Burton, Slocum.

Second Row: W. C. Henderson, Lorimer, Cyrus, Lightfoot, Powell, Edwin Bjork, Bargsley, Dawson, Tomme, Haubold, Haltom, Haberzettle, L. Hightower, Kimbro, Anderson.

Third Row: Craig, Alford, Clements, Ambrose, Goetz, Hammonds, Scott, Edward Bjork, Jaquet, G. Henderson, Lowrey, Crimmons, H. Hightower.

FOOTBALL

Under the guidance of new coaches, Paschal's young team finished fourth in the 1936 District Seven grid race. The Purple eleven won four games, lost four, and tied one. The Panthers took on Breckenridge of the Oil Belt District on September 18 for the opener. Expecting to knock their younger opponents off early, the mighty Bucks had to be satisfied with a six to six tie. Frank Kring, who passed brilliantly in this game, heaved a pass to Jack Billingsley for the Paschal score. Spafford and Robertson looked especially good on the line.

On September 25, the Paschalites went to Waco and on a muddy field lost a rough game, eighteen to six. Harmon Hightower, James Rowland and Harold Packard let the Tigers know they had been in a football game. Packard made the touchdown in the third contest on a pass from Hightower at Mineral Wells on October 9. The Mountaineers were trampled by a score of 19 to 5, Captain Ruel Hoffman coming into his own by making two touchdowns. Yarbrough, Lacy and Brantley stood head and shoulders above the rest of the boys with their deadly tackling and bull-like blocking.

Playing against several old teammates, the Panthers fairly swamped the young Riverside Eagles 20 to 0, October 15. Hoffman took a punt 75 yards through the whole Blue outfit. Kring's driving power was a big factor in this victory, with Stroop and Haubold blocking well. The Panthers lost a heartbreaker to the Poly Parrots, 12 to 0, October 23. The Purple Warriors fought the Poly boys completely off their feet, making more yardage and first downs than their opponents, only to have intercepted passes turned into touchdowns by the Parrots.

The Masonic Home Masons held their jinx over the Panthers by taking a 12 to 6 thriller November 6. This loss, however, was not the fault of Billingsley, Packard (who made the touchdown), Hoffman, Hammonds, Lorimer and Terry. These boys really played football. Robert Haberzettle, starting his first game, was one of the main cogs in the Panthers' victory over Brackenridge of San Antonio, November 14. The score was 19 to 2 with Billingsley taking two touchdown passes, and Yarbrough ripping the line for a score.

Ruel Hoffman set some kind of record when he made all four touchdowns as the Panthers took the Stripling Yellow Jackets 27 to 0 in their next to last contest of the season, November 20. Tiger Henderson was a bulwark in the Panther line. Lowrey, Haynes, Pennock, and others also looked good. On Thanksgiving Day the Panthers really made history. The favored North Side Steers hit a snag and barely won 7 to 0. The whole Paschal line was a charging brigade of cavalrymen, spearing everything the Maroon machine had to offer.

After finishing a mediocre season, the Meyers-Groseclose team placed two boys on the all district eleven. Jack Billingsley, end, and Ruel Hoffman, back, were the honored players. At the annual banquet in honor of the graduating lettermen, F. S. Ratcliff and Arthur Hammonds were elected co-captains of the Purple eleven for the 1937 season. Twenty-two Panthers received letters at the end of the season.

BASKETBALL

The Purple basketball team coached for the first time by W. A. Meyers, finished second in the city tournament, losing to Poly in the final game. Starting with a green, inexperienced team and with only one letterman, Captain Jack Billingsley, and two squadmen, Horace Dawson, and Harry Jennings, Coach Meyers whipped them into a fast, sharp-shooting quintet.

A new method of eliminating teams, a city tournament, instead of the usual schedule of games, went into effect for the first time this year. In the practice games played with each school the Purple and White five were undefeated until the last game of the season. They lost this contest to Poly.

In the tournament held at the Texas Christian University gym on February 9 and 10, the Purple crew played Diamond Hill in the opener, swamping the boys from the hilltop with a score of 21 to 9. Jack Billingsley, Chick Dawson, and Harry Jennings were the outstanding performers for the purpose. Billingsley grabbed high scoring honors for the game with a total of nine points.

In the second game the Panthers drew the young speedy team from Riverside, and again the Purple quint was victorious. They downed the Blue and Red by a score of 21 to 4. Again Jack Billigsley led the scorers. He was ably assisted by Chick Dawson and Harry Jennings.

In the final game the Panthers played and lost to the Orange and Black from Poly, 24 to 15. It was a nip and tuck battle all the way with first one team and then the other holding the lead. The score was tied 9-all at the intermission. In the second half the Parrots jumped to the lead, but soon after the Panthers took the lead at 14 to 11. The Parrots pulled ahead at the close of the third quarter and were never headed. The Purple's old standbys, Jack Billingsley, Chick Dawson, and Harry Jennings, played their usual good game. Bob Butcher, husky guard, played his best game of the year. This ended the cage season for the Paschal team.

The Purple had one of the finest point-making front lines that it has ever had. Jack

BASKETBALL

Billingsley, lanky center and captain, was the outstanding player of the city, being the high point man for the season with a total of 74 points. He received his third letter in basketball.

Chick Dawson, versatile forward, was the second high scorer of the city, and was one of the finest floormen the Purple has ever had. This was the first year he lettered in basketball. Harry Jennings, the other forward, was probably the coolest, most dependable player on the team, finishing third in the city scoring race. He lettered this year and he has one more year. The Panthers had a fine line led by Kenneth Moore, flashy redheaded guard, who was a fine shot besides being an excellent guard. This is his first letter, but he will be back next year.

Bob Butcher played the other guard and probably improved more than any other man on the team. Butch hardly ever shot, usually staying back. He proved a very valuable cog in the Panther team. He lettered for the first time. He also has another year. Grover Cline, substitute guard, played a very fine defensive and offensive game, and was one of the outstanding long shots on the team. Billingsley and Dawson will graduate and Cline will not be eligible for next year.

TRACK

The flying feet of the Purple tracksters still echo in the ears of many Paschalites, and the W. C. Berry cindermen chalk up another fine season. With only one man, R. L. Jackson, who had had any real experience, Coach Berry gave the city track and field men a real battle for point honors. One of the most outstanding prospects ever to report to Coach Berry, F. S. Ratcliff, developed into a real track man. Ratcliff, in fact, was nearly a one-man track team. He ran a neat quarter mile, his favorite event. He was a fine broadjumper, running the 220-low hurdles, and he ran anchor on the mile relay.

Another quarter miler deluxe was Joe Stroop, who made Ratcliff step for the number one position. Stroop also ran on the mile relay team. Robert Slocum, a squadman from the '36 squad, was an excellent broadjumper and was also on the mile relay. R. L. Jackson, who won fourth in the discus in the city meet in the spring of 1936, improved his last season's form and became a real tosser of the wooden plate. He competed in the high jump also. The other members of the weight staff were Bill Brantley, husky shot putter, and Frank Kring, shot put and discus artist.

In the sprints Floyd Smith ran the 220 and the 100, and little Kenneth Moyer could certainly step out in the 220. Billy Patterson and William Farrell were the other men to run the century. Raymond Haynes was the only Purple man to compete in the javelin throw. In the distance events the Panthers had a real threat in the half mile in Earnest Chiacos, who could run with the city's best in the 880. The mile was well taken care of by William Thompson, a small but game lad. This group of athletes gave the Panthers a well-balanced group of trackmen.

GOLF

With Chick Dawson and Frank Vette, co-captains, returning from the undefeated city golf championship team of 1936, Paschal was the top favorite to repeat. Out of twenty members in the golf club, six men were picked to play on the team. Dawson and Vette were the outstanding shot makers of the club. The other four men on the team were Clarence Kraft, Webb Walker, Johnny Weir, and Buster Adams.

The team held their practice sessions at Glen Garden Country Club two days a week, and at Worth Hills course two days a week. The matches were played on Saturday mornings at Glen Garden. A city high school singles champ was sent to the state tournament held at Austin. This was the first time this system was tried. With this material Marvin Messersmith, coach, made a bid to keep the title at Paschal.

TENNIS CLUB

Finishing strong again in the school tennis wars, the Paschal racketeers were led by Jack White, number one singles man, and Dick Vickery and Jack Billingsley, veteran doubles team, all three winners in the city meet. Louis Reid was captain of the Tennis Club and one of the strongest players. He and Jack White were the runner-up to Vickery and Billingsley in the doubles championship. Pat Fralia, another excellent racket wielder, was the co-captain of the Tennis Club. Dick Vickery, who with Paul De Motte won the city and district doubles championship last year, was the only letterman returning to the 1937 team, and again he and his partner captured the two-man team honors.

The squadmen from the 1936 team were Jack Billingsley, Louis Reid, Jack White, and Robert Glaze. As was expected, Jack White and Robert Glaze, the two favorites in the singles division, were pitted against each other in the play-off for the singles championship of Paschal. White was victorious in a blazing duel, winning 7-5, 6-0, 3-6, and 6-3. Billingsley and Vickery in the doubles, White in the boys' singles, and Lillian Kinney in the girls' singles carried the Purple banner into the city net wars.

Preceding the formal dedication of the Yearbook on Journalism Day, the Panther staff was presented, and honor journalism students were awarded pins and letters. An effort was made this year to make the book more informal, and the "Favorite Section" was enlarged to twice its former size. All articles were written informally, and more snapshots were used than ever before. Instead of formal pictures of the faculty, snapshots were used showing the teachers at work, an innovation in year-book management.

Names of thirty class favorites were kept secret by the staff until Senior Day, when these favorites were presented to the student-body in the auditorium by the staff in formal style. Other secrets kept until this day were the dedication of the annual and its cover design.

For five cents, a Paschal student can get the best midget newspaper ever published—the Pantherette. Crammed full of school gossip and news of both pupil and teacher, the paper was published every other Tuesday by the journalism department.

To begin the fall semester, the publication started off with a special freshmen edition, with news mainly on the "fish" and other new students. To close both fall and spring semesters the Seniorette was published, containing farewells and the official will of all graduates.

Honors bestowed upon student journalists in 1936 included the winning of the Quill and Scroll writing award by Annette Bockstein and the feature writing award by Glenn Gorman. Honors won in the Texas High School Press Association went also to Glenn Gorman in column writing.

Featured papers were the Hallowe'en edition, Saint Patrick's Day edition, a special "April Fool" edition, and two Seniorette numbers which were in attractive colors. Incidentally, the Pantherette enjoyed a successful year financially.

With President Pat Harness in the lead, the Press Club enjoyed a gay round of social activities in 1937. All students from the journalism department, the members worked hard, played hard, and with pleasing results accomplished whatever they started out to do. They were the first to open the social season in school by sponsoring a dance in the gym, in the early fall. These socialites rushed on and entertained with another school dance, a banquet at the Blackstone Hotel for members and dates, and a bruising skating party at the Rollerdrome.

Business meetings featured open discussions on how to improve the school paper, and talks by Jack Gordon of the Fort Worth Press and Ed Prell of the Star-Telegram on "The Life of a Newspaper Man." With the help of their sponsor, Mrs. Minnie E. Tipton, the Press Club published "Creative Youth" in April. The book contained original material from various students about school.

If a student wished to study the stars, the most interesting way to study them would have been on a Thursday night in '37 with the Penta Club. Under the watchful guidance of Mr. William Monnig and Mr. Donald Bubar, Penta Club members were able to watch the stars and planets as they make the rounds of the heavens. They had their own entertainment watching and discussing stars; therefore, no worries and headaches were caused by planning dances and parties with the exception of an informal tea given in room 208 with the Parabola Club of Texas Christian University as their guests and the Penta-Pan-American dance.

The most exciting day in a Penta member's life is on "Mathematics Day" when letters, pins, ribbons, and cups are presented by the Penta to honor students in mathematics. Divided into three sides, the Gold Side, the Purple Side, and the "rebel group," the Third Side, the club kept competition running high and the members interested and dashing around to keep up with the opposing sides.

Membership being limited to botany and zoology students, the Outdoor Club chooses the widen open spaces and "nature in the raw" rather than class room and books. However, in this manner they verify what they have studied in books by seeing both plant and animal life in their natural settings. Work is pleasure to these students, as was attested by an exhibit given in the fall of 1936. In the exhibit, harmful insects, jailed, looked from behind bars at the more respected inhabitants of their insect world.

Among the most interesting field trips taken by the Outdoor Club in the past year was a trip to Lake Worth, including sightseeing at the fish hatchery, the dam and and Inspiration Point. Others were made to Capps, Forest, Sycamore, and Cobb Parks, and to Katy Lake. Entertainments during the year featured a picnic in Rock Park in the fall and a sunrise breakfast in the spring. To top the season off as unforgettable, a lecture on insects was given by Mr. Reynolds Carson, the most prominent naturalist in the United States.

"Je vous remercie d'un programme tres ravie." No, guess again. It's really a very nice and flattering phrase. That's right! It means "Thank you for a very delightful program." The French Club of '37, one of the most intertaining organizations in school, was always mindful to thank their entertainers graciously. They originated the plan of having their meetings with other clubs in the school, thereby having a variety of programs and keeping the students interested throughout the year.

Not all was fun and frolic, however. Seriousness reigned over the members at several lecture meetings. One of the most interesting talks this year was given by Miss Berta Lee Ward, a visitor from Brazil, when she told them of the many quaint customs followed by the natives there. Having only two meetings each month, the French Club tried to please their members by giving only dashing, peppy programs each time. One meeting out of every three during the year was held with the Spanish Club and the Art Club. These get-together meetings usually featured games and discussions contrasting the two speeches.

Following the usual custom, the Spanish Club was divided in two sides this year, Los Amarillos and Los Rojas, thereby keeping students interested in trying to win various contests for their own side. The winning side was entertained by the losing side at the close of each term. The club had two private meetings each month and a joint meeting with the French Club at which time the two languages were compared either by students or guest speakers. The club also entertained with musical programs and a variety of games.

Their only outside recreation was a tea in the cafeteria with members of the faculty and Spanish students as guests. Business meetings featured Spanish sing-songs, skits, and musical programmes. Industrious students who had finished three years of Spanish were presented with the customary diploma by the club. To add interest to their meetings, the club officers wore the native Spanish costumes.

To become a member of the largest and most sociable club in school, a student must either be appointed by a teacher or be elected by the class. It was, therefore, an honor to be in the Pan-American Student Forum group. Membership was limited to students from Spanish and Social Studies classes, the purpose of the club being to create among students a more friendly attitude toward foreign countries. Representatives were sent to Dallas to attend the National meeting for the Pan-American Student Forum. Howard Taylor, the first vice-president of the city unit, was among these delegates.

In their second year of progress the organization found fault with their constitution and adopted a new one, which was written by Howard Taylor and Bill Ross with the help of their sponsor, Miss Louise Bomar. The most interesting entertainments sponsored by the club were the dance in the gym April 2, given with the Penta, and a city meeting held in the form of a banquet.

A student would hardly enjoy attending a club meeting and listening to his fellow members chatter in Latin, all the while thinking perhaps it was Chinese. Therefore, only Latin students make up the membership of the Latin Club. Their first social for the past year was held with spooks—a Hallowe'en party in the school gym with refreshments for all in the cafeteria. Those who knew their Latin vocabulary won gifts at the club's annual Christmas party as they were auctioned off to the highest bidder.

Taking three in one, to save time—or perhaps money — they celebrated Washington's and Lincoln's birthday and St. Valentine Day with a patriotic party, featuring games, music, and short sketches. Inventing games for the Latin Club is a hobby and an annual spring custom for Miss Lily B. Clayton. This year a new game called "Caesar" was played at their final social.

One of the oldest clubs in school, the Ish-End, carried on with no sign of old age in the past year. As the purpose of the Ish-End is to acquire a more thorough knowledge of the business world, membership is limited to students studying shorthand. Being a rather conservative business organization, they required no outside frills and frolic, with the exception of a few bumps at a skating party in November and a theatre party to close the season.

Obviously, Paschal's ambitious boys all expect to have a secretary. Very few of them take shorthand; therefore, the club was short on boys, but chose a boy to be their president. Business meetings usually featured talks by men from the real business world, also by girls on "The Duties of a Secretary." The club motto throughout the year was "Trifles Make Perfection, But Perfect Is No Trifle." With the help of their sponsor, Miss Cora J. Phillips, the Club enjoyed a year of business and pleasure.

Flying high and getting away from its childhood, the two-year-old Aeroplane Club left a definite impression on more serious minded students of Paschal. The members take their fun from life by accomplishing new ideas and plans for themselves and their fellow members. So interested in their work that they equipped an upstairs garage room, for a club room, the boys are enabled to continue work throughout the summer. President Tommie Neyland is quite an accomplished flier, being a licensed pilot with one hundred hours of solo flying to his credit.

Getting their chief knowledge from nosing around the airport and from speeches given by various pilots, the boys hope to continue with flying colors and with flying aeroplanes. Their idea of an aeroplane club is not to give dances and parties but to work for the future and their ambitions. Therefore, no entertainments were presented this year.

All that is said to be work is mere play and experience to the care-free members of the Vagabond Players. Here, hidden talent has a chance to grow and exhibit itself. Regular business meetings would cramp the style of such a group; therefore, twice a month they meet, once to discuss plays and once for rehearsals or practice. They started off this year with all-round approval when they presented the merry little comedy, "The Passing of Chow Chow," then kept their public's admiration by enacting "The Duchess Says Her Prayers," another comedy with its serious moments.

As there is no limit to membership, various types of personalities and acting ability is found in the Vagabond Players; hence the job of casting is made easy. The players present a one-act play each month and one major play each term. Who knows? There may be screen talent here that is just beginning to show itself!

Take a Wednesday night in room 436 and mix with it the Senators of Paschal. Here you have the most enjoyable lesson in parliamentary law ever taken. Socially inclined, the senators are highly entertaining to their public and to their own group. Honoring the mid-term graduates of '37, they gave a dinner-dance in the Den of the Hotel Texas.

The Senate kept up its fast pace with a script dance in the spring, followed by a swimming party and a picnic. Hilarious entertainment is ample food for a group of graduating students, and better hosts than the Senators could not be found. Presenting a dance in the school gym in April, they closed their glamorous array of public entertainments. Topping the season off with their annual dinner dance in honor of senior senators, the Senate of '37 held the spotlight in pleasure-giving at Paschal.

Guarding themselves from the artificial beauty of life and groping for the more natural art, the Art Club proved most successful the past year. Their work centered around the study of real beauty in art and lectures from various sources. Miss Mary Gillespie, French teacher, told the members of the famous pieces of art she had seen in France, and of the glamorous city, Paris. Miss Annie Laurie Walker, Latin teacher, gave a talk on Roman art in its natural setting as she had seen it.

Miss Mary Zeloski, English teacher and extensive traveler, told of the beautiful European etchings she has seen on her various trips. The Art Club and the French Club held a joint meeting and Mrs. Ella Ray Ledgerwood, art teacher, gave her ideas of modernistic art. Studying art is really a pleasure and entertainment enough for those youthful artists; therefore, no outside recreation was planned throughout the year.

The Girl Reserves invite all who will to join their group, feeling that the girls who join them will "Help others before they help themselves," which is their purpose.

Work and pleasure were combined when the girls entertained the younger children in the Tarrant County Orphan Home with a Hallowe'en party with all the ghostly trimmings. The girls continued to give happiness to the orphans when they returned to the Home Christmas with a decorated tree and presents for the children.

In the fall of the year they enjoyed a weiner roast at Lake Worth, followed by hiking and playing games. Honoring the February graduates of the club, they gave a Valentine party at which holiday games were played. To close the year the girls enjoyed an all-city parent-student meeting in the form of a banquet.

Membership of the Embassy Club is limited to home-room officers, presidents of clubs, and editors of all school publications. These members represent the students to the club as Ambassadors. The purpose of the Embassy is to create among students an appreciative attitude toward school property, especially the grounds. A campaign, sponsored by the Ambassadors, was started last fall, successfully changing the students' attitude toward many school affairs and protecting the school grounds. They also sponsored a most successful dance in the school gym.

Early in April the sophisticated Ambassadors enjoyed an all-day picnic at Broadview Point. They changed the name of their club this year so as to distinguish themselves from the Junior Civic Club. They carried out everything they started out to do, and the whole student-body respected them for the things they accomplished.

The Junior Civic Club is made up of the officers of the junior and sophomore home rooms. The organization is similar to the Embassy Club and their purpose the same, to create among the students a school spirit and to help keep the school grounds in order.

If you were told to stay off the grass, you would know that you were being called down by a member of the Civic Club. Or perhaps some one gave you a look in the auditorium which carried a silent message telling you to act your age. That was a member of the Civic Club.

The club entertained the entire student-body with a San Jacinto program in the auditorium, closing a successful year of promoting interest, promoting welfare and promoting the good name of our school among the students.

To be a member of the National Honor Society is the coveted desire of all students. These are "good example students," for they must all have straight A's in deportment and must be elected by the faculty as highest honor students in the senior classes. Very few meetings were held this year. One was held to elect officers and others to organize the group and help them distinguish themselves as an honor group.

Their purpose is to create among students a desire to better themselves and be honor students. Services were held as usual in the auditorium with members of the National Honor Society appearing before the student-body to receive the honors that were theirs. This ceremony closed the season with a feeling of deep respect for all members of this organization.

In the early spring of 1936 the orchestra of Paschal High School entered a contest sponsored by the State Federated Music Clubs and came home with first prize. This musical group is considered one of the finest high school orchestras in the state. Their good reputation carried far, and they were asked to play for the Texas State Teachers Association late in November. Honored by the request, the orchestra was in tip-top shape and presented their outstanding performance of the year with a series of classical numbers.

Opening their spring concert, the orchestra presented their first complete symphony, "Jupiter Symphony" by Mozart, followed by "Egmont Overture," by Beethoven. Elizabeth Sanders, pianist for the orchestra, offered "The First Movement of Grieg Concerts for Piano," accompanied by the entire orchestra.

The orchestra took life and music as it came and enjoyed a highly successful year cultivating their talents.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Director ..... Miss Irma Poindexter
Accompanist ..... Betty Dyer

Singing their way into the hearts of their wide-spread public, the Girls' Glee Club participated in numerous programmes throughout the city during the past year. They added to their good standing by entering the annual Glee Club Contest held at C. I. A. in April. Combined with the Boys' Glee Club, they plan to present the cantata, "The Man Without a Country," by Hosmer, in the spring concert.

A trio formed by Laura Jones, Juanita Warren, and Jane McCrary made a great success of their singing career by varying the type of songs they sang. Their programmes ranged from popular hits of the day to the difficult classics by famous composers. Late in February the Girls' Glee Club entertained the Professional and Business Women's Club with an assorted concert. Other programmes were those given for the Texas State Teachers Association and the Fort Worth Branch of American Association of University Women.

Director ..... Miss Irma Poindexter
Accompanist ..... Jeanette Hopkins

Composed of thirty-five boys, all with excellent voices, the Boys' Glee Club entertained frequently throughout the past year. Following the usual custom, they were featured on both the Baccalaureate Services and the Commencement Exercises in both January and June. This group of boys is not organized for the purpose of carrying on formal club business but for the purpose of cultivating the love for good music among students.

Their work is pleasure, and they are really having fun when they are before an audience singing to the best of their ability. They expect to make the spring concert their most outstanding performance of the year when they offer the cantata, "The Man Without a Country," by Hosmer, with the Girls' Glee Club. The concert is to be presented as a benefit show for the music department.

KICKS OF '37

"I don't like the looks of the book."

Ed: If you don't like it, look up the staff in Lima, Peru. We won't be there.

Kick No. 2

"My picture isn't in it."

Ed: That was the one bright spot in the making of the book.

Kick No. 3

"My picture sure is bum."

Ed: The photographer helped us in representing things as they really are.

Kick No. 4

"There is too much blah-blah."

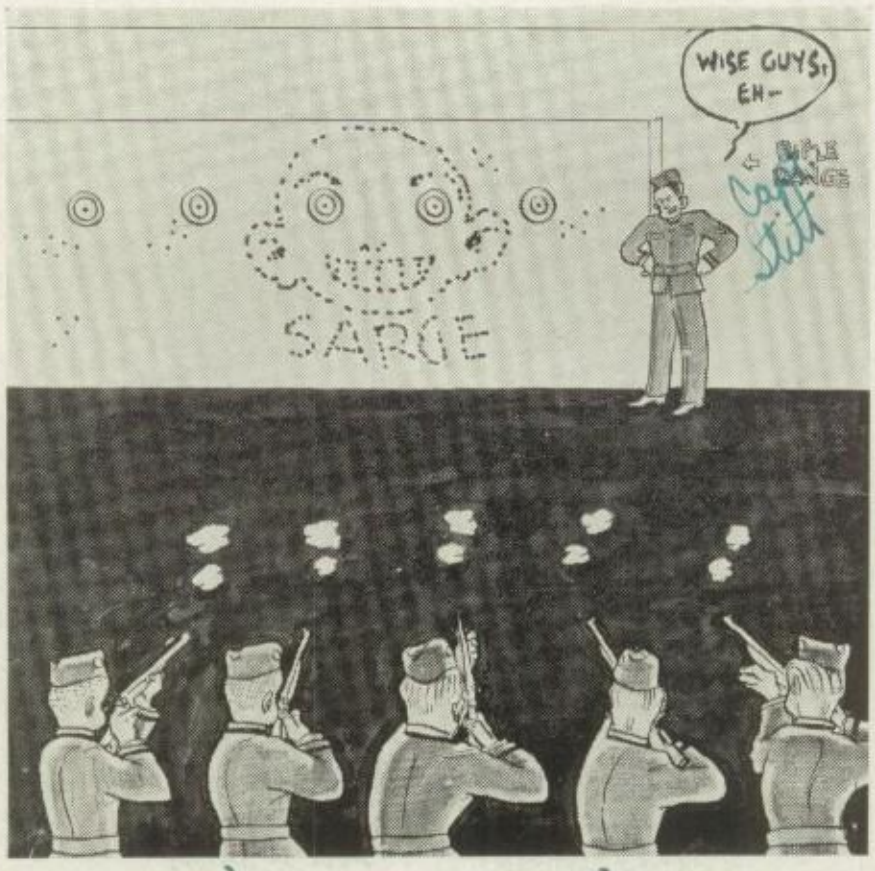
Ed: If anything is offensive, forgive me. I am a quick, intelligent student, responsive to my surroundings, and naturally I am influenced by them.

Kick No. 5

"My name isn't mentioned in a single writeup.

Ed: You probably didn't do anything, or else we didn't like you.

P. S. All the other kicks were too personal or far too rank to be published.



WHO'S ZOO

THE LOW-DOWN ON THE HIGH-UPS

RUEL HOFFMAN:

Starred at football because he was afraid of being tackled. He used to think a goal was a piece of yellow metal, but he has made plenty of them since he learned the difference. If you don't think he is a star athlete, just ask him. As a football and basketball player he starred for Paschal. As a scholar, he doesn't know yet who wrote Gray's "Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard," or who was the most important writer in the period of Shakespeare.

He is the only man alive who can wear overalls to school in the morning and look good in a tux at night. (Paid advertisement.) Defines petting as a waist effort.

ROBERT GLAZE:

One of Paschal's brighter students. Belongs to the Penta and National Honor Society, and has been on the honor roll for ages. Says he doesn't like O'Henry because the peanuts stick in his teeth. He still thinks smelling salts are sailors with B. O. He dislikes anythink rougher than a spelling bee. Everyone has great hopes for Robert Glaze.

Glaze is not only a bright lad, but is also a poet. Here's a typical Glaze mental absorption:

I was struck by the beauty
of her hand.
I tried to kiss her.
As I say,
I was struck by the beauty
of her hand.

SCOTT McDONALD:

Smiled July 10, 1932. Speaks only to other Senators. Bribed the judges in the last speech contest. As a lad he was a boy soprano and his voice failed to change. Acts like a freshman. Parks his feet in the aisle and when you stumble over them says, "Oh, that's all right. You didn't mean to."

To show you what kind of guy he really is, just lend me your ears. To prove a point in a debate he once made a research to find the longest word in the English language. It was honorificabilitudinitalilus.

MAX LANIER:

So dumb he wanted to know what little Audrey's last name was. Seen too often at school. Has accomplished nothing his last five years here. He got in the condition he's in by writing those little bits of nonsense under the senior names in this book.

His theme song to the girls is "Huh. You're not the only pebble on the beach. There's a little rock in Arkansas."

JACK BILLINGSLEY:

This basketball, football, and tennis star has decided he will pose for Life Buoy advertisements if he ever graduates. Everybody wonders how Jack can stay away from his mother. Got as tall as he is by stretching his neck to see whether other students had the same test answers he had. Jack is a problem child, the problem being whether to admit knowing him in public or not.

PAT STEEL:

He aspires to be a big shot and run the works, but tells too many stale jokes to do that. The only reason Jack Benny is holding his job is that Pat Steel has not applied for the job, and everybody wants to hear Jack Benny. Can usually be found up to his neckin' work. (pun . . Ed.)

BILL LORIMER:

A natural leader of men. He sways all class meetings, if he can wake up the students. A self-made man, showing the horrors of unskilled labor. Just a good clean bad boy. A Steeplechase debutante of 1940. He really thinks he's not so hot. No one has ever argued the point.

PAT HARNESS:

The registrar's worst mistake. Likes to believe people read his columns in the Pantherette. No one has ever disillusioned him yet. Knows nothing, yet tells all. He is looking forward to the time he leaves this great institution. So is everybody else.

ONE PERSON'S OPINION

THE PRESS CLUB

FOUNDED: In the Tarrant County jail by Jack Gordon after everybody sobered up.

MOTTO: "We're the most powerful club in Paschal, and the Senate and Embassy can just go to (censored)."

MEMBERSHIP: Louis Reid, Maxine Doak, and John Goodspeed are some of their worst examples.

They agreed with the Embassy on one thing: that Paschal would be ideal if there were chairs and sofas in the halls and stairway landings.

GIRL RESERVES

MEMBERSHIP: Composed of gals who didn't know any better.

WHAT THEY DO: Nothing.

AMBITION OF MEMBERS: To be called "Babe"!

SLOGAN: "Oh, yes, we're going to give a dance next term."

PAN-AMERICAN STUDENT FORUM

MEMBERSHIP: Misfits that were blackballed out of other clubs.

MOTTO: "Let the two Americas be one in brotherhood"—or words to that effect.

FOUNDED: By a Mexican dope smuggler and a loco customs inspector on the border.

The name says they're forum, but they're usually against everybody and everything.

THE SENATE

FOUNDED: By a Senator from Austin who was dragged out of a gutter by two ambitious Paschal studes.

MEMBERSHIP: A bunch of cads and speech students got together—because they had so much in common.

MOTTO: "Good to the last drop." . . . Franklin.

AMBITION: To become a fraternity.

THE EMBASSY

The name doesn't mean anything—neither do they.

MOTTO: They're not that far along.

MEMBERSHIP: Made up of teachers' pets and communists.

SLOGAN: "Hadn't we better re-elect officers?"

AMBITION: To make everyone think they're someone.

VAGABOND PLAYERS

FORMED: For the benefit of 1931 speech seniors, so they could amount to something before graduation. Every one is entitled to one mistake.

MEMBERSHIP: Composed of Miss Sweet's and Mr. Ausmus's pets.

AMBITION: To become top-notch emoters, or else go into the fruit business.

● Nearly every child has normal eyesight, but when eyes are used more and more for reading and studying, their efficiency is decreased. If eyes are used under poor lighting conditions, permanent damage may result.

One of the surest ways to avoid unnecessary strain on the eyes is to have the right kind of glareless light when reading, studying or doing any other task that requires close use of the eyes. WHY TAKE YOUR BUSINESS COURSE NOW?

There are many good reasons why the high school graduate should take a business course immediately after receiving his diploma. Here are some of them:

(1) If you are trained for business employment and then wish to go to college, you can use your education both to help you with your studies and to pay your expenses in case you need to be self-supporting.

(2) If you do not finish your four-year course in college, you have something to fall back on for self-support.

(3) If you finish your university course and cannot find employment in the profession for which you have qualified, you can take a business job.

(4) If you follow the profession for which you prepare in college, a knowledge of business will help you to make it practical. You will notice that the best lawyers, the best doctors, the best engineers, etc., are all good business men and women.

(5) If you do not desire to go to college, you will be able to secure a position and begin your business career as soon as you complete your commercial course.

A great many educators are saying, "FIRST finish high school, NEXT take a business course in a business school, and THEN go to college or go to work."

WHERE IS OPPORTUNITY?

In many places there is no opportunity—and for many people there is no opportunity. Opportunity travels on a high level—and opportunity, like a fast train, seldom stops where there is no chance to do business.

It is certainly true that the greatest opportunities today are in the field of business—and also that opportunity means most to those who are prepared to render superior service in this field.

If we are to take earnings as a basis for measuring success, business ranks head and shoulders above all other vocations. Making money is not the whole measure of success, but it is one of the very essential factors.

You are looking ahead and thinking ahead. You now have your basic education, and you're anxious to know where your chance for achievement lies. If you will look about you, you will conclude that there are a thousand business men needed for every doctor, every clergyman, every lawyer, every engineer, and every architect in the community. In other words, there are a thousand calls for trained young people in business to one for those trained for any given profession.

Business training will prepare you to make a living—that is the first step toward useful citizenship. It has been said that the kind of life one lives is determined by the way one makes one's living. If this be true—and it is—it is important to be able to make enough money to live well!
